

EZproxy Information

Accessing your Files (usually config.txt and user.txt)

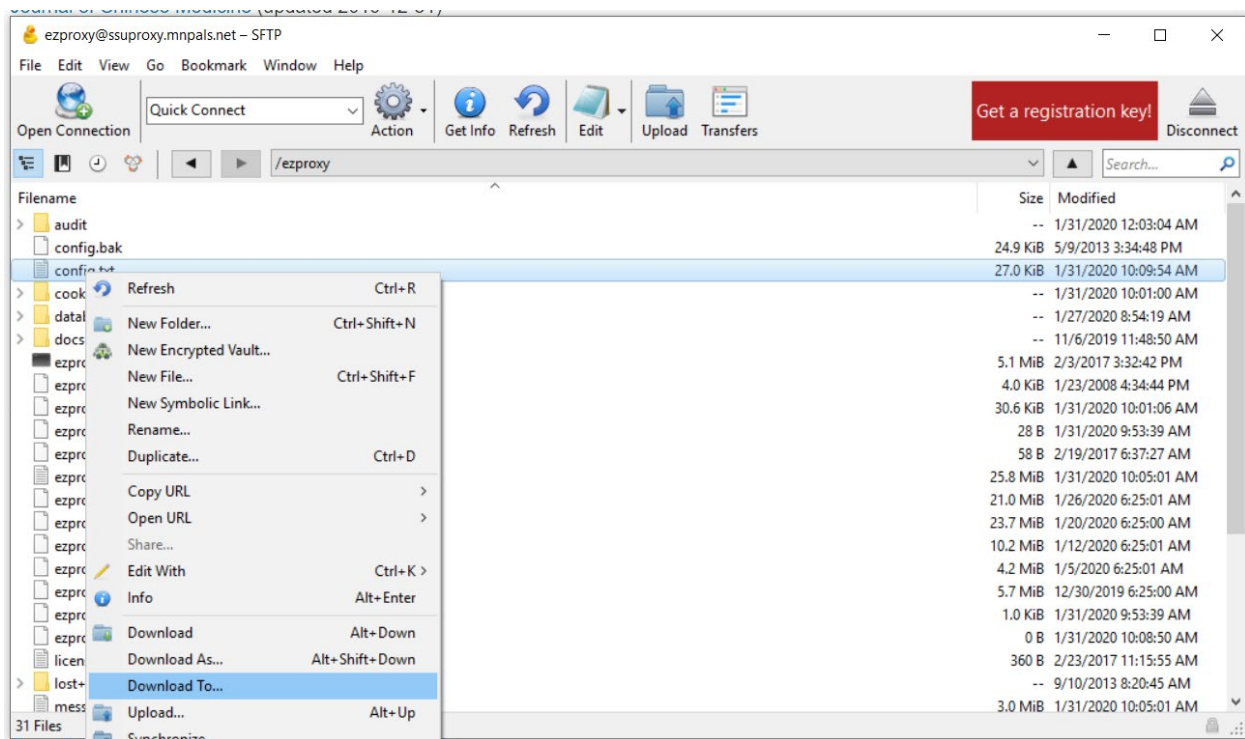

We use sftp and port 22. Cyberduck , WinSCP and FileZilla are fine software choices.

Editing your Files (usually config.txt and user.txt)

- Be sure to download from the server
- Make changes
- Upload to the server
- Restart EZproxy

More details . . .

While you can edit files on the server, best practice is to download a copy of the file (right click on it) and make a backup copy of it in case you need to revert to it.

Edit a separate copy of the config.txt using Notepad++ or Atom.

Remember, # in front of a line makes it a comment.

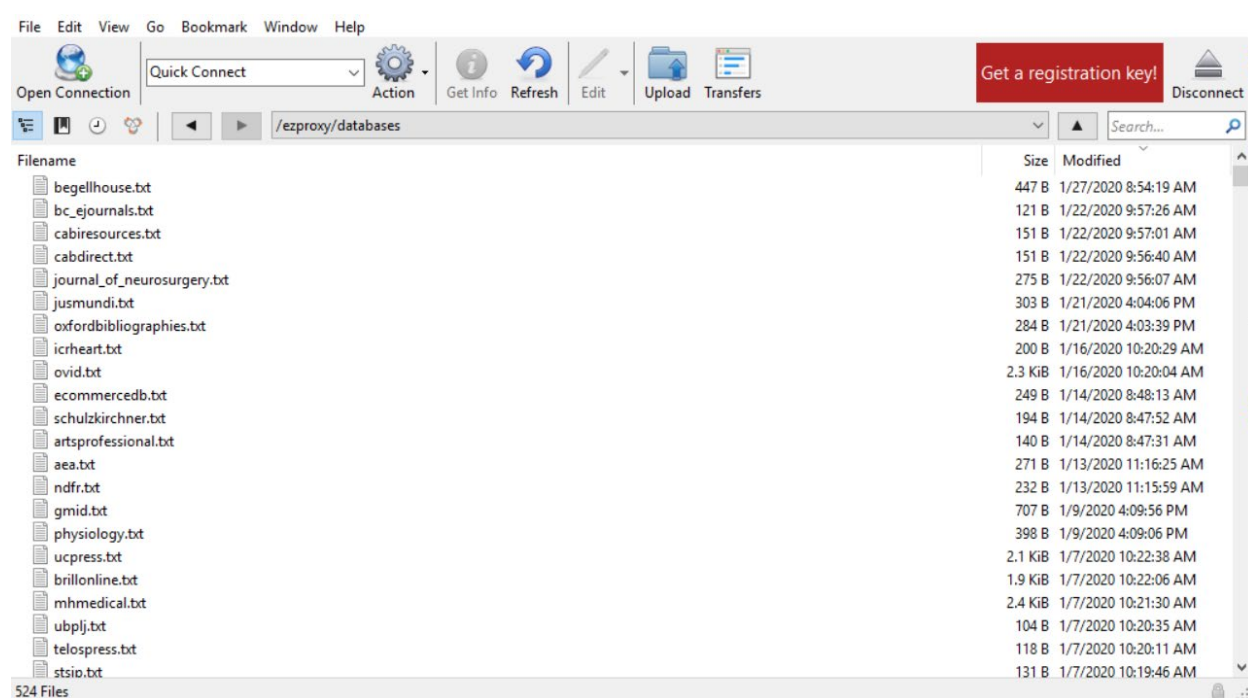

Current stanzas are here:

https://help.oclc.org/Library_Management/EZproxy/Database_stanzas

If you don't need any changes from the OCLC stanza, you can simply put the IncludeFile line in your config.txt if one is available. For example, for Proquest, it would be:

`IncludeFile databases/proquest.txt`

PALS keeps these files updated in your databases folder, for example:

Save your file and upload it to the server. (You can drag and drop with Cyberduck!)

Restart EZproxy once you have logged into EZproxy Administration (where xyz should be replaced by your institution code):

More on Database Conflicts
